Stand in the Gap for Widows

EQUIPPING THE CHURCH TO DEFEND WIDOWS

THE PROBLEM

50% of all widows  leave their church

after their husband's death.

Stand in the Gap for Widows survey

THE PROGRAM

Stand in the Gap staff asked 1500 widows what types of support they needed and were not receiving. Consistently, we found that widows need to socialize with people who understand, sources for practical help, to feel remembered, and to walk through grief in deep relationship with others. Stand in the Gap for Widows was designed to equip the local church to address these needs.

A Few Snapshots of Success

Debbie

Married at 19-years-old // Widowed after 43 years of marriage // "You are used to unity with another person. When he is gone, more than half of you is gone." // Left her home church after her husband's death // Sought out Stand in the Gap for Widows at one of our partner churches // "Stand in the Gap gave me wings to go forward and embrace others."

Debbie

Married her high school sweetheart // Widowed after 40 years of marriage // "We were best friends. In fact, we were each others' only friend." // Spent months being angry at God for "taking the wrong person" // Began facilitating monthly dinners for widows in Ada through Stand in the Gap for Widows // Now hosting hundreds of widows each month // "Out of this horrible circumstance of grief, God has brought so much good."

Roseanne, Gwen, and Kathi

Stand in the Gap's first small group of widows, formed in 2012 // "Nobody understands what it's like to be a widow, except another widow." // "Every time we are together, I come away refreshed. That in itself strengthens my faith." // Still sharing meals, prayer requests, late-night phone calls, and laughs together

Jacquelyn

Widowed after her husband's nine-month-long battle with lung cancer // Even months later "I would cry myself to sleep" // Began hosting a Stand in the Gap small group for widows at her church // The small group has grown to dozens of women // "We talk about everything; our husbands, our feelings, our frustrations, our fears, our new normal. As I minister to these ladies, the blessings come back to me tenfold."

Phyllis

Always the "life the party", Phyllis was crushed by the silence in her home after her husband's death // "The alone-ness can be overwhelming." // Widowed for six months when she found Stand in the Gap for Widows at one of our partner churches // "We've brought camaraderie and company and life back into each other's homes again. It's been a lifesaver."
