Hayden Coffee's strengths are building relational equity and trustworthiness. These strengths, framed by her passion for youth, qualify her to provide support for Life Launch youth and mentors.

Her ability to build relationships is a reflection of her high level of empathy and compassion for those around her. This comes from her understanding of the compassion Jesus has for his people. Her compassion makes her excellent at serving young adults from hard places. In her previous position, working with children ages 6-10, Hayden displayed this trait through weekly meetings and group sessions where she helped children heal from past trauma and develop new and healthy ways of healing—all through a safe and trusting relationship. She works through the lens that the individual gets to take authority and have agency in their life, and that their story matters. This view is largely shaped by her belief in Jesus and the ways he walked alongside people, serving and loving them so that they could fully become all that he had made them to be.

Hayden's trustworthiness is displayed in her consistency and devotion to follow through. She is highly flexible and able to adapt and see hope in any situation. This will benefit her work as Program Manager to best serve the young adults and mentors, empowering them to work as a team. It takes the pressure off of the "doing" and allows "being" to be at the core of the work done. Hayden's devotion to follow through helps her prioritize the relational side as well as the administrative work that is done to make sure all parties involved are set up for success.

Although Hayden is able to display different strengths, she knows that the source of all of this ultimately comes from the Lord, and as a result, knows that this program belongs to him first. So with these gifts, her desire and posture is to maintain surrender to him in all things, and be a grateful steward of the relationships in his kingdom. It is with humility and gratefulness that she fulfills the Life Launch program manager role, always eager to see what God will do next, working on behalf of his people through this program.
